HARRISBURG (AP) -- Gene viev Blatt, more confident than ever in her battle for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, has no intentions of stepping aside in favor of a neutral candidate.

"I am going to leave no stone unturned until my victory is certified," the state secretary of internal affairs declared Wednesday in scotching rumors that she Mrs. Stanley C. Rogers. might withdraw.

Miss Blatt said she had heard the rumors but didn't know Marie Farrell Michael, John, whether they were deliberate or James and Condy Farrell, Mar-

Court Justice Michael A. Mus- ley Rogers Jr. manno, would step aside in the interest of party unity, especially with U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater as the Republican presidential nominee.

SEE SCOTT DEFEAT

Political observers feel a Goldwater ticket gives Democrats a good chance of upsetting incumbent Sen. Hugh Scott. R-Pa., in the November election if they are unified.

The outcome of the Blatt-Musmanno battle in the April 28 primary is still up in the air because of disputed votes in -Philadelphia.

The other 66 counties have certified their returns to the state elections bureau, giving Miss Blatt a 392,781 to 332,622 edge over Justice Musmanno.

With Philadelphia's uncertified tally, her margin is cut to 460 votes, but the state Supreme Court also is considering a request from the Musmanno camp to count about 6,000 votes that were cast on the wrong lines on -voting machines.

Musmanno's attorneys claim that, if counted, the total result will be a net margin of 1,200 votes for the jurist. The court inations and most of the states E. SAN FRANCISCO (AP)-Gov. William W. Scranton scored a victory Wednesday night with his own Pennsylvania delegation, while losing the Republican presidential nomination.

All but four of the Commonwealth's 64 delegates voted for Scranton on the first ballot. The vote reaffirmed Scranton's political prestige within his own state's GOP leadership.

All week reports circulated freely that between 10 and 20 from a commitment to Scranton made earlier in the year.

Theodore L. Humes, Bolivar. spokesman for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater on the delegation, predicted flatly following Sunday that a minimum of 10 votes would go for Goldwater when the roll was called. HOLD TO TALLY

Chicken Kiev, an old and luxurious Russian dish, has been streamlined by an American cook. The classic version is deep-fat fried. But with electric skillets abounding in American households one culinary expert redesigned the recipe to fit that utensil. Tried in our household, this new rule worked out efficiently.

This chicken with its rich buttery flavor is definitely party fare. But if you want to rehearse the recipe before serving it to guests. we feel sure your family won't mind one bit.

Chicken A La Kiev 3 large chicken breasts (12 to 14) ounces each) split, boned and skinned (about 4 ounces each)

Pepper % cup (11/2 sticks) hard butter 2 eggs, slightly beaten 3 tablespoons water

1/3 cup flour 1 cup (about) fine dry bread

crumbs

1/2 cup (1 stick) butter With a meat mallet pound chicken breasts until they are very thin cutlets. Sprinkle each side with salt and pepper. Place two; tablespoons hard butter, cut into four to six pieces, in the center of each cutlet; fold over the two short ends, then the long ends. Secure together with wooden picks or skewers. Mix eggs and water together. Roll cutlets in flour, dip them into egg-water mixture, then roll them in bread crumbs. Dip cutlets into egg-water mixture again, and roll them in bread crumbs again. Chill. In a heavy skillet melt 1/2 cup butter and heat until hot; add cutlets and saute five to seven minutes on each side, or until they are golden brown all over. Without draining, place skillet in hot (400 degrees) oven and bake 10 minuets. Remove picks and serve at once.

Note: Chicken cutlets may be prepared ahead up to the step for sauteing, then covered and frozen. Allow to thaw slightly before sauteing.

Chicken A La Kiev 3 large chicken breasts (12 to 14 ounces each), split, boned and skinned (about 4 ounces each)

34 cup (11/2 sticks) hard butter 2 eggs, slightly beaten

3 tablespoons water 1/3 cup flour 1 cup (about) fine dry bread crumbs ½ cup (1 stick) butter With a meat mallet pound chicken breasts until they are very thin cutlets. Sprinkle each side with salt and pepper. Place two tablespoons hard butter, cut into four to six pieces, in the center of each cutlet; fold over the two short ends, then the long ends. Secure together with wooden picks or skewers. Mix eggs and water together. Roll cutlets in flour, dip them into egg-water mixture, then roll them in bread crumbs. Dip cutlets into egg-water mixture again, and roll them in bread crumbs again. Chill. In a heavy skillet melt 1/2 cup butter and heat until hot; add cutlets and saute five to seven minutes on each side, or until they are golden brown all over. Without draining, place skillet in hot (400 degrees) oven and bake 10 minuets. Re-

Note: Chicken cutlets may be prepared ahead up to the step for sauteing, then covered and frozen. Allow to thaw slightly before sauteing.

Chicken Kiev, an old and luxurious Russian dish, has been streamlined by an American cook. The classic version is deep-fat fried But with electric skillets abounding in American households, one culmary expert redesigned the recipe to fit that utensil. Tried in our household, this new rule worked out efficiently.

This chicken with its rich buttery flavor is definitely party fare But if you want to rehearse the recipe before serving it to guests, we feel sure your family won't mind one bit

Chicken A La Kiev

3 large chicken breasts (12 to 14) ounces each), split, boned and skinned (about 4 ounces each)

Pepper 34 cup (11/2 sticks) hard butter 2 eggs, slightly beaten 3 tablespoons water

1/3 cup flour 1 cup (about) fine dry bread

crumbs 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter

With a meat mallet pound chicken breasts until they are very thin cutlets Sprinkle each side with salt and pepper. Place two tablespoons hard butter, cut into four to six pieces, in the center of each cutlet, fold over the two short ends, then the long ends Secure together with wooden picks or skewers Mix eggs and water together Roll cutlets in flour, dip them into egg-water mixture, then roll them in bread crumbs. Dip cutlets into egg-water mixture again, and roll them in bread! crumbs again Chill In a heavy skillet melt ½ cup butter and heat until hot, add cutlets and saute five to seven minutes on each side, or until they are golden brown all over. The POWER of FAITH BY WOODI ISHMAEL

For 20 years, Dr. Frederick Brown Harris has held a unique position in our national life. As chaplain of the United States Senate he has been the spiritual leader of men of all faiths serving in that legislative body.

Each morning Dr. Harris carries on the tradition of opening the session with a prayer. It has been said that those daily prayers have helped bring our leaders together. Four volumes of them have been published as official Senate documents.

Dr. Harris is also one of only three people to win four Valley Forge Foundation awards for "Significant Utterances on Freedom."

In addition to his service in the United States Senate, his writing and lecturing, Dr. Harris served as minister of Foundry Methodist Church in Washington from 1924 until 1955. "For God and Country" can best describe this man whose influence for love and brother-haad has been felt by all who have had contact with him.

SENATORS IN SOUTH URGE NO VIOLENCE

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR. WASHINGTON (AP) - South ern senators, who lost a long and bitter battle against the civil rights bill, are closing ranks again to urge that Southerners obey the new law "for as long as it is there."

At least a dozen of the Democratic senators who fought hardest against the measure during a 15-week battle in the Senate have urged Dixie to limit its protests to court challenges and to avoid all violence, however much the law may be disliked.

Some have spoken out in statements and speeches in their home areas. Others said much the same when asked for comment on a speech by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who led their Senate fight.

RUSSELL SPEAKS

Russell, addressing an area development commission at Rome, Ga., urged that the new law be observed as long as it is the law.

"Violence and law violation will only compound our difficulties and increase our troubles." he said. "All good citizens will learn to live with the statue and abide by its final adjudication tion."

Sens. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., Russell's plea and noted they er.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMABL

For 20 years, Dr. Frederick Brown Harris has held a unique position in our national life. As chaplain of the United States Senate he has been the spiritual leader of men of all faiths serving in that legislative body.

Each morning Dr. Harris carries on the tradition of opening the session with a prayer. It has been said that those daily prayers have helped bring our leaders together. Four volumes of them have been published as official Senate documents.

Dr. Harris is also one of only three people to win four Valley Forge Foundation awards for "Significant Utterances on Freedom."

In addition to his service in the United States Senate, his writing and lecturing, Dr. Harris served as minister of Foundry Methodist Church in Washington from 1924 until 1955. "For God and Country" can best describe this man whose influence for love and brotherhaad has been felt by all who have had contact with him.

SENATORS IN SOUTH URGE NO VIOLENCE

WASHINGTON (AP) - South ern senators, who lost a long and bitter battle against the civil rights bill, are closing ranks again to urge that Southerners obey the new law "for as long as it is there."

At least a dozen of the Democratic senators who fought hard-Est against the measure during ■ 15-week battle in the Senate have urged Dixie to limit its protests to court challenges and to avoid all violence, however much the law may be disliked.

Some have spoken out in statements and speeches in their home areas. Others said much the same when asked for comment on a speech by Sen Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who led their Senate fight. RUSSELL SPEAKS

Russell, addressing an area development commission at Rome, Ga., urged that the new law be observed as long as it is

"Violence and law violation will only compound our difficulties and increase our troubles. he said. "All good citizens will learn to live with the statue and abide by its final adjudication tion."

Sens. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., among others, fully supported had taken a similar stand earli-1 Russell's plea and noted they er.

15 - YEAR - OLD CROSSWORD ---GIRL LOOMING BIG ON COURT

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP)-A 15-year-old girl who grew up on the wrong side of the tracks in bustling Hamtramck, Mich., is doing everything right on the tennis court.

Her performance at the National Clay Courts Tennis Championships have left fans with the distinct impression Jane (Peaches) Bartkowicz will be the next Maureen Connolly.

Last Saturday, Peaches - a seldom-smiling tigress on the courts-won the Wimbledon junior title. In the current clay courts meet, she has swept past her first two opponents.

IS SHY GIRL

Seeing Peaches off court is one thing. Seeing her play is another. She is perhaps the shyest girl to reach national competition. But she has not lost a match this year against 13 opponents, featuring a devastating forehand, whipped by a frail body.

From a poor, hard-working 15. Greek starts in a public park tennis la. health reclass when she was 10 years old 17. intention under tutoring of Mrs. Gerald 18. railroad Hoxie, well-known tennis patron and talent developer in the 19. knob Hamtramck area.

The nickname of Peaches was bestowed on Miss Bartkowicz by 24. pierce Mrs. Hoxie, who explained: "I just couldn't stand the name 27. wing Jane."

MAY BE CHAMP

Mrs. Hoxie thinks her No. 1 pupil can become the nation's 39. anger No. 1 woman tennis player.

Peaches has had little encouragement at home. Her parents, mostly speaking Polish, uneasily view tennis as a game for the leisure class.

Peaches just wandered onto the tennis courts at Hamtramck and was urged by Mrs. Hoxie too "give it a try."

Soon, she was winning local matches. Then, she won the national girl's 14 and under crown. Last July, she won the national 16 and under title at Lake Bluff, Ill., while still 14.

Now, the tennis sky seems the limit for Peaches.

Her performance at the National Clay Courts Tennis Championships have left fans with the distinct impression Jane (Peaches) Bartkowicz will be the next Maureen Connolly.

Last Saturday, Peaches - a seldom-smiling tigress on the courts-won the Wimbledon junior title. In the current clay courts meet, she has swept past her first two opponents. IS SHY GIRL

Seeing Peaches off court is one thing. Seeing her play is another. She is perhaps the shyest girl to reach national competition. But she has not lost a match this year against 13 opponents, featuring a devastating forehand, whipped by a frail body.

From a poor, hard-working family, Peaches made her starts in a public park tennis class when she was 10 years old under tutoring of Mrs. Gerald Hoxie, well-known tennis patron and talent developer in the 19. knob Hamtramck area.

The nickname of Peaches was bestowed on Miss Bartkowicz by Mrs. Hoxie, who explained: "I just couldn't stand the name 27, wing

Arc Of Defense Against Red China

By BEM PRICE Associated Press Writer

The long arc of U.S. military bases around the eastern perimeter of Red China is now being lengthened to curve through South Viet Nam and Thailand.

This arc begins in Korea and stretches through Okinawa. Japan, Formosa and the Philippines to the air base of Udon in Thailand.

It embraces the newest jet Wase in South Viet Nam at Danang, 350 miles north of Saigon. By jet, this is less than 30 minutes from the Chinese border across North Viet Nam.

The Danang base ties in with the Air Force bases at Ton Son Nhut Nhatrang and Bien Hoa and the Udon base in Thailand just across the Mekong River southeast of Vientiane in Laos. FLEET ROAMS SEA

The powerful 7th Fleet roams the South China Sea off Viet Nam and southern China. It is in itself a floating airfield from which jets are capable of striking from almost any point along China's coast.

On Okinawa alone is a Strategic Air Command bomber base and an understrength Marine Division.

There are two Army divisions and a number of jet bases in

The Chinese Nationalists operate several jet bases on Formosa which are used by U.S.

Further, as a backup staging base, there is Clark Field in the Philippines near Manilla. 4 MILITARY BASES

Additionally, the British operate four military bases in the Far East - the only European power to do so.

The British have navy and air facilities at Singapore, and air field in Sabah, another Royal Air Force facility near Kuala Lampur in Malaya and some army and air units at Hong Kong.

YOU MAY BE LOSING MONEY BY PAYING LESS

There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.

Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.

Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency -and it is so soundly built that it has reduced upkeep expense to the practical minimum.

You're ahead again-every mile you drive. Finally, reflect on Cadillac's historically high trade-in value. No car at or near its price preserves so much of its owner's original investment through the years.

So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac. You just invest a little more-and get a lot more back. If a Cadillac has long been in your plans, visit your

GOP Standard Bearers Of The Past Spend The Day In Variety Of Ways

By STANLEY MEISLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)-As a new man joins their ranks today, the Republican standard bearers of the past will spend their day scattered across the land, from Wall Street and a Manhattan tower to this convention city by the Golden Gate.

The men who have led the Republican party to victory and defeat in the presidential years of the past will be busy at work, ill at home, or dabbling once more in politics.

Let's look at how they will spend their day: RICHARD M. NIXON

Nixon leaves the St. Francis Hotel at the foot of Nob Hill here early today and drives up the hill to the Fairmont Hotel. After breakfast there with the California delegation, he returns to the St. Francis to prepare for an open house that he and his wife, Pat, are holding for all the delegates.

Nixon plans to stay away from the doings at the Cow Palace all day. He'll spend the rest of the day in his suite, receiving and preparing his unity speech for the convention Thursday.

GEN. EISENHOWER

Eisenhower, who was nominated in this convention city in 1956, plans to keep tabs on the day's developments from his hotel suite. He has held back from mixing in the battle over the presidential nomination and has constantly maintained his neu-

Arc Of Defense Against Red China

Associated Press Writer

The long arc of U.S. military bases around the eastern perimeter of Red China is now being lengthened to curve through South Viet Nam and Thailand.

This arc begins in Korea and stretches through Okinawa. Japan, Formosa and the Philippines to the air base of Udon in Thailand.

It embraces the newest jet Wase in South Viet Nam at Danang, 350 miles north of Saigon. By jet, this is less than 30 minutes from the Chinese border across North Viet Nam.

The Danang base ties in with the Air Force bases at Ton Son Nhut Nhatrang and Bien Hoa and the Udon base in Thailand just across the Mekong River southeast of Vientiane in Laos. FLEET ROAMS SEA The powerful 7th Fleet roams the South China Sea off Viet Nam and southern China. It is in itself a floating airfield from which jets are capable of striking from almost any point along China's coast. On Okinawa alone is a Strate-

YOU MAY BE LOSING MONEY BY PAYING LESS

There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.

Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.

Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency -and it is so soundly built that it has reduced upkeep expense to the practical minimum. You're ahead again—every mile you drive.

Finally, reflect on Cadillac's historically high trade-in value. No car at or near its price preserves so much of its owner's original investment through the years.

So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac. You just invest a little more—and get a lot more back. If a Cadillac has long been in your plans, visit your dealer and get all the dollars-and-cents facts.

GOP Standard Bearers Of The Past Spend The Day In Variety Of Ways

By STANLEY MEISLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)-As a new man joins their ranks today, the Republican standard bearers of the past will spend their day scattered across the land, from Wall Street and a Manhattan tower to this convention city by the Golden Gate.

The men who have led the Republican party to victory and defeat in the presidential years of the past will be busy at work, ill at home, or dabbling once more in politics.

Let's look at how they will spend their day:

RICHARD M. NIXON

Nixon leaves the St. Francis Hotel at the foot of Nob Hill here early today and drives up the hill to the Fairmont Hotel. After breakfast there with the California delegation, he returns to the St. Francis to prepare for an open house that he and his wife, Pat, are holding for all the
